

East End Arts announces the 28th annual Harvest Gospel Concert Series, a series of free, non-denominational concerts that begin on Nov. 20 at Mattituck Presbyterian Church, 12605 Main Road, Mattituck, at 8 p.m. The Harvest Gospel Choir is comprised of more than 70 singers and is led by its artistic director of 28 years, Reverend Maryanne McElroy. For more information, call 631-727-0900; or visit eastendarts.org.

The Quogue Library is holding an art gallery reception on Nov. 28, at the library, 90 Quogue St., Quogue. Exhibiting artists were invited by the Quogue Library Art Gallery Committee to create works of art from cigar boxes. A silent auction will be ongoing during the month of November, and the winners will be announced at the event. Those who are interested in bidding on a cigar box art piece may use forms available in the library's gallery.

Hampton Bays High School's Baymen took on Center Moriches High School during their homecoming game.

Hampton Bays High School held their annual homecoming festivities, which included a bonfire, pep rally and football game. Cheerleaders raised spirits at the pep rally and students got to see a special dance performance by their teachers.

Alan W. Clark, Esq., of Westhampton, was named a leading personal injury and medical malpractice plaintiff attorney in the 2014 New York Metro Super Lawyers publication for the seventh consecutive year. Clark is a managing partner and founder of the Levittown-based law firm Alan W. Clark & Associates.